WHO ARE THEY ?

They have an exciting and dynamic approach to jazz. These multi-talented musicians have been active members of Vancouver's jazz & creative music scene for many years, playing commercial, jazz and creative music, mainstream and avant-garde jazz styles. They have toured and recorded with a wide variety of national and international artists. They have played in a huge variety groups, and have collaborated together over the last 25 years in a series of recording projects. They have performed in Europe, the USA and in festivals across Canada. Sometimes they are sidemen and other times bandleaders. They have synthesized jazz traditions, classical influences and elements of new music into a number of stylistic approaches, which they distill through their original compositions and improvisations. They are also active as teachers, clinicians and freelance musicians.
